Big Russia Virtually Gives Ultimatum to Little Finnish Country

Soviet Claims Her Troops Were Shot on Finnish Border

Red Army Urges Government to "Adopt Strictest Measures"

"ANOTHER POLAND"

Germany Backs Russia in New Thrust at Far North

MOSCOW, Russia.—(AP)—Soviet troops, in mass meetings following a "border incident" Sunday in which Finnish artillery allegedly killed or wounded 13 Red army soldiers, Monday urged the government to "adopt the strictest measures."

The meetings were held as Moscow awaited an answer to an ultimatum-like note in which Russia demanded that Finland withdraw her border garrisons to prevent new "incidents."

The Russian troops in the Moscow district adopted resolutions declaring "there is a limit to patience," and requesting that the government "bride the provocateurs of war."

"Then days are enough to conquer Poland," the resolutions sternly reminded Finland.

The press campaign against Finland is strikingly similar to that which preceded the invasion of Poland, no mention being made in the newspapers or over the radio of the denial issued in Helsinki that the Finn had fired on the Russians.

Germany Backs Russia
BERLIN, Germany.—(AP)—Germany sympathizes with Russia's demands upon Finland, according to the information service Dienst Aus Deutschland.

"The opinion prevails here," said the service, "that a first chess move of the rank of the Soviet Union has the undeniable right to secure for itself access to the sea, and by amicable arrangement with its neighbors to safeguard vital defense interests."

Virtual Ultimatum
MOSCOW, Russia.—(AP)—Soviet Russia accused Finland of shelling Red soldiers on Soviet soil Sunday night and demanded that "concentrations" of Finnish troops be withdrawn "without delay" from the border north of Leningrad.

A Russian note signed by Foreign Affairs Commissar Molotov and handed to the Finnish minister Friday night was couched in ultimatum-like language. Withdrawal of Finnish troops 12 to 15 miles from the border, as demanded by Russia, would mean abandonment of Finland's frontier fortifications, and possibly the granting of one of Russia's most insistent demands in her long dispute with Finland over frontiers and naval bases.

The text of the Russian note in part as published by Tass, the official news agency:

"Mr. Minister, according to a report of the General Staff of the Red army November 26 at 3:45 p. m., Finnish fire suddenly opened from Finnish territory against Soviet troops stationed near the village of Malmila, Karelian isthmus near the Finnish border."

"Although seven cannon shots were fired as a result of which three rank and file and one junior commander were killed, seven rank and file and two troops, having strict orders not to yield at any provocation, refrained from returning the fire."

Dnied by Finns
HELSINKI, Finland.—(AP)—The Russian-Finnish crisis reached an acute stage Friday night when the Soviet government, charging Finnish artillery fired on its troops, demanded that the Finns withdraw "immediately" 20 to 25 kilometers from the frontier.

Premier Cajander denied there had been any shooting on the Eastern frontier. A Foreign Office spokesman hinted the Russians may have been killed accidentally and blame placed on Finnish troops.

Farmers Urged to Vote for Marketing Quotas

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—R. E. Short, Brinkley, president of the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation, appealed to Arkansas farmers Monday to vote for marketing quotas at the December 9 national cotton referendum.

Bobcats Prepare for Title Contest

Three Days of Secret Practice—Team Reported in Top Shape

BULLETIN

F. P. Young, chairman of the High School Athletic Committee, announced at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon that the special football team to Pine Bluff had been chartered.

Although the required number of persons had not been obtained at that hour—the committee felt that supporters of the team would rally behind the Bobcats and ride the train.

Names of persons going on the train will be published Tuesday and Wednesday.

Three days of secret practice for the Hope High School football team was ordered Monday by Coach Foy Hammons as he prepared the team for the Arkansas High School football championship game Thursday afternoon against the Pine Bluff Zebras at Pine Bluff.

The Bobcat mentor also said that one-hour skill practice sessions would be held each morning before school in which all of the Bobcat players will be gone over in detail and assignments for each player discussed.

Coach Hammons said the team was in top physical shape and that he would pass up the rough work this week to the practice field. He said that considerable time would be spent on pass defense and offensive formations.

General admission tickets to the game will go on sale Tuesday morning at the office of Roy Anderson. The price, 75 cents. Student tickets will go on sale at the high school here Tuesday morning and they can be purchased for 25 cents.

A section will be reserved at the Pine Bluff stadium for the crack 63-piece Hope High School band.

The Zebras will enter the game with an advantage because they need only a tie to clinch honors. It's all or nothing for Hope—they must have a victory to win the title.

Pine Bluff has won seven and played one tie. The Bobcats have played five victories against one defeat. Fort Smith, in third place with four wins and one loss, has no chance at the title but may move into second place if the Zebras turn back Hope.

The Blytheville Chicks and Forrest City Thoroughbreds start the week's program in a Wednesday night clash at the latter city.

Thanksgiving afternoon games find El Dorado at Camden, Hot Springs at Fort Smith, and North Little Rock at Little Rock.

Announcements Must Be Signed

Within the last several weeks The Star has received a number of announcements which, because their senders failed to sign name and address, can not be published.

Signatures are not printed, but the authority back of the announcement must be known to the management before it can be used.

This rule is enforced absolutely in announcements concerning weddings, engagements, births and deaths. If any subscriber has sent such an announcement to us and failed to get it published it is because the announcement was not signed—and unsigned communications are treated alike, even though the omission is an oversight.

An Editorial . . . By Norman Kah!

We give thanks today for all the man-made terrors of civilization that have NOT been visited upon us—the things we cannot afford, the things we do not want: Bombs bursting in air, fearful eyes pinned on the sky, spiritless survivors picking among the ruins of cities for all that is left of loved ones.

Hungry, scrawny little bodies, never getting used to starvation, never understanding why such things have to be.

Men in trenches, nauseated with fear, knowing they will probably die or come out crippled for life.

Men at sea waiting for death in the form of torpedoes, mines, depth bombs, aerial attack. It doesn't matter how. Death is so much alike in all its disguises.

We are grateful because we don't need to carry rations cards when we go to the grocery store and because we don't need to do without the things we're used to having at our tables.

We don't need to walk dark streets at night, picking our way dangerously along in blackness, carrying gas masks always over our shoulders.

We don't need to leave our factories, offices and fields to put on uniforms and carry guns and learn to shoot men we don't hate.

We don't need to stand along the streets and wave our little flags and cheer as soldiers strut along, when in our hearts we know it is all wrong.

We don't need to feel the deadness and hopelessness that come when fathers and sons and brothers and husbands exchange their places on earth for little white crosses.

We made a mistake once before; we don't want to make it again. We want to be left to do the things we were meant to do—to build, not destroy. We want to enjoy all the blessings we know today and all the others we can earn. We want our children to be glad they were born into this world. We want to give them a world that is not charred and stained with needless blood.

We are thankful for having been given a chance to rebuild an earth we nearly tore apart 25 years ago. We're sorry some men again want to destroy it. We think it's big enough for everyone to live peacefully.

We hope, above all, we can repeat these words of Thanksgiving a year from now—and every year thereafter.

Mrs. Roosevelt Is Ready to Testify

Willing to Be Dies Committee Witness If It Will Be Helpful

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said Monday she was willing to be a Dies committee witness if she has any information which might be helpful.

She made her remark at a press conference about the same time Major Humphrey Wilson, investigator for the house committee on un-Americans, was testifying that the American Student Union was an instrument used for spreading communism among students.

The first lady, who has addressed the American Youth Congress, said repeatedly that she did not believe it was communist-controlled.

Nyberg Beer and Liquor Tax Upheld

Court Ignores Question of Senator Gutensohn's Vote

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court Monday upheld the 1939 Nyberg act levying a sales tax on beer and liquor, ruling that its constitutionality had already been decided by the court last June 12.

Involving the doctrine of res adjudicata, ("something decided") the court ignored the question of the validity of the vote cast for the act by Paul Gutensohn, Fort Smith, who was appointed to serve in the senate by Governor Bailey.

All seven members of the court agreed the act was constitutional, but Associate Justice Frank Smith and E. L. McHaney differed with the other five as the reasoning by which the decision was reached.

In a separate opinion Associate Justice Smith sharply criticized the court for its failure to reconsider the validity of Gutensohn's vote, which was ruled invalid by the court in connection with the voided emergency clause in Governor Bailey's 141-million-dollar highway bond refunding bill.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Women Less Susceptible Than Men to Diseases of Coronary Arteries

(This is the second of 14 articles dealing with the nine principal causes of death in the United States. During the course of the series, Dr. Fishbein will advise his readers concerning preventative measures.)
Especially serious among the diseases of the heart that attack people past middle age are coronary thrombosis and angina pectoris. The rates for these diseases have risen steadily in recent years.
Our real knowledge of the diagnosis of coronary disease goes back only about a quarter of a century. Dr. James B. Herrick, an American, was the first to recognize and describe definitely the effects of obstruction of the coronary arteries of the heart, a work for which he recently received the distinguished service medal of the American Medical Association.
If diseases of the coronary arteries including angina pectoris, were separated from all other forms of heart disease, they would still rank eight in the leading causes of death.
Men suffer more from these conditions than do women. There are many theories concerning this fact, the chief explanation being that men are constantly under greater strain and drive than are women. Men are likely to indulge in dietary excesses much more than are women. Use of alcohol and tobacco, and exposure to intoxicating substances, such as industrial poisons, are much greater among men than among women. Finally, their active lives expose them much more often to infection than is the case among women.
Doctors are likely to say that the chief factor in diseases of the coronary arteries is hypertension or high blood pressure. All over the world studies are now being made in the prevention of high blood pressure.
We know now that early detection of this condition and the adoption of a suitable hygiene of life in relationship to it will do much to keep hypertension under control. Such activity will also yield good results in the prevention of coronary disease and angina pectoris.
Infection is the chief cause of heart disease among young people. Among older people, breakdown of the tissue, including hardening of the arteries, is probably most important, particularly when infections accompany this condition.
The heart beats on an average of 4200 times an hour, which means many millions of contractions of the heart muscle every year. Each time the heart beats, three ounces of blood are poured into the large blood vessels. Six quarts of blood leave the heart every hour, which means about 26 gallons a day. The heart can develop 2½ horsepower a day, and yet it is only a mass of muscle, nerves and blood vessels, about the size of a fist.
Fortunately for most of us, we need pay little attention to the heart. If it works satisfactorily, there is not much we want to do to control it; but when the heart begins to be de-efficient in its activities, we become short of breath, tire easily, and find it impossible to carry on the daily activities of life.

The heart needs plenty of rest and relaxation. It needs good nutrition, since the nutrition of the heart depends on maintaining a proper condition of the blood. The blood provides all organs with the nourishment, and we must watch our diets to make certain we have enough of the essential food substances.

The heart pumps blood which carries oxygen to the tissues of the body. A plentiful supply of oxygen in the form of fresh air will mean less work for the heart. With all of this, it has become possible to develop 10 heart transplants which everyone should learn if he wants to prolong his life.

1. Do not subject your heart to sudden, strenuous or prolonged physical exertion.
2. Eat regularly, slowly and temperately.
3. If you are excessively overweight, seek sound counsel as to how best to dispense with this form of heart handicap.

4. Try to avoid physical activity for at least 30 minutes after eating, particularly after the heaviest meal of the day.
5. Avoid emotional stress and strain. Worry is an important factor in its relation to heart strain.

6. By appropriate measures, keep your body as free as possible from so-called foot of infection.
7. Regular intestinal elimination is highly important.
8. Average not less than eight hours of sleep in a room abundantly supplied with fresh air.
9. Perennial health demands a proper balance between work, play and rest.
10. A periodic examination may often reveal defects of which you are totally unaware.

How to Be Happy

How to be happy? Well, I don't know. Since pleasures and sorrows come and go. And who this evening is forthright glad. Tomorrow with reason may wake up sad. And certainly, none for his little while. Of sorrow would call on the sad to smile. Now to be happy? Well, I should say. Live to your best from day to day. Think more of others and somewhat less. Of the loss and gain called selfishness. Stand cheerfully to the weight of care. All shoulders and backs are made to bear. And carry about when the day is thru. For the joy of others a jest or two. How to be happy? It's give and take. And share a little of all you make. Don't ask too much of your fellow-man. But grant him favors whenever you can. Work hard; play fair; keep your conscience clear. And you'll be happy enough down here. At least as happy, it seems to me, As ever a man was meant to be. —E. A. G.

Teachers and Tech to Battle for Title

Wonder Boys Could Get Crown By Tying the Teachers

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. —(AP)—The Arkansas Tech Wonder Boys and the Arkansas Teachers College Bears collide Thursday at Russellville with the state college football championship going to the winner. In fact, the Wonder Boys can tack the pennant on their mast at Russellville if they gain a tie. One tie-with Ouchitua—means the Tech record. The Bears, state champs for the past three years, were upset by the Henderson Reddies. The game will pit the Tech running star, Freshman Aubrey Fowler, against Egbert Heath and Linton Hager of the Teachers. Heath is a punter, passer and runner deluxe. Hager specializes in ripping a line to shreds. Another Thanksgiving Day classic finds the Ouchitua Tigers of Arkansas going up against the Henderson Warriors at Conway. The Henderson Reddies stay at home to engage the Northeast Oklahoma Teachers. The Arkansas A. and M. Bull Weevils of Monticello invade Springfield, Mo., to clash with the Missouri State Teachers.

Major University Football Teams To Bring Season to Close Thursday

Tennessee Is Likely Choice for Rose Bowl Bid—New Orleans Is Plugging for Tulane-Texas Aggie Game for Sugar Bowl Classic

NEW YORK —(AP)—The New Year's Day bowl prospectors, looking for gold in their tills, will be surveying in earnest this week as college football winds up the 1939 season in a double barreled blaze of glory. Word from Chicago and points farther west has Southern California and Tennessee, barring unforeseen accidents, lined up for the Rose Bowl. New Orleans is plugging for Tulane against the best available, probably Texas A. and M., for its Sugar Bowl. Dixie Howell's border conference champions from Temple (Ariz.) State will be hosts in the Sun Bowl. But beyond that, nothing has been heard from Miami's Orange Bowl or the Dallas Cotton Bowl, and the only and conference rules will keep Cornell and Ohio State from accepting all invitations.

Through this week's program will bring Texas A. and M. Tennessee, one-two in the last Associated Press poll, back into action, in many ways it will be anti-climatic. Of the major championships, all tubthorn in the Southeastern and Pacific Coast Conferences already have been won and lost.

Of the title winners, Cornell was by far the most impressive Saturday. The big red machine, over and around an outclassed Pennsylvania team to a 26-0 triumph that brought Ithaca its first winning season since 1923. While Southern California's Trojan gained no championship, they added considerably to their already glittering reputation by the manner in which they overcame Notre Dame fight to beat back the Irish, 20-12. While Cornell was winning its second Ivy League mantle, Ohio State and Texas A. and M. backed into their championships. The Buckeyes were beaten, 21-14, by Michigan. A fired Iowa team was tied by Northwestern, 7-7, and gave Ohio State the Big Ten title.

The Aggies, who play Texas Thursday in their finale, clinched first place in the Southwest Conference though they were idle as Southern Methodist beat Baylor, the last threat to Homer Norton's team, by 21-0. Missouri and Paul Christman finished off the Big Six campaign in good style as Christian, his passes checked, picked up 127 yards in 23 rushes to lead the Tigers to a 20-0 conquest of Kansas, Nebraska, mean while, gained the runner-up spot or Hermie Rohrer's passes to Roy Petch that beat Oklahoma, 13-7.

The Southern Conference race wound up with Duke and Clemson, each beaten once by outside foes, in a tie for the lead. In the East, undefeated and untied Duke, with only Detroit left on its schedule, won the Pittsburg city series with a 22-7 victory over Carnegie Tech. Princeton, already the Big Three winner, shut out the Navy 28-0. The team that had so often been labeled the "Eli's" worst in years put on a concerted march for the first touchdown, scored two more off recoveries of Harvard fumbles, and thus upset the Crimson and the bookmakers who had made them 3-1 shots with a stirring 20-7 triumph. The finish of the Big Ten schedule found Wisconsin bracketed with Chicago in the Big Ten cellar. Penn State gained a notable Eastern upset in shutting out Pitt 10-0. Villanova held Manhattan scoreless as the Wildcats won by 7-0; Columbia and Colgate fought to a 0-0 tie marked by five attempted field goals. In the Southwest Texas Christian

His Two Touchdowns Enable Tulsa to Whip Drake, 14 to 6

TULSA, Okla. —(AP)—Two long touch down pitches in the first and last periods enabled Tulsa University to muzzle the favored Drake Bulldogs 14 to 6 Saturday before a shivering crowd of 5000. Sophomore Quarterback "Happy" Miller made both payoff passes to Halfback Nolan Cargile, the first from the Drake 25 and the second from the 28. Marshall Dennis, substitute guard, kicked both extra points.

Cargile is a graduate of Hope High School and former star halfback on the Bobcat grid team.

Navy Correcting Destroyer Fault

Seaworthiness Damaged by Great Speed and Heavy Guns

By PRESTON GROVER
WASHINGTON — Much of the conflict over the design of recent classes of destroyers appears to spring from an effort to reconcile two schools of thought by letting both have their way.

Destroyers are those low-cut, slim-hipped boats, about the size of a middle-weight yacht, that can outrun any warship afloat. They have two major duties—to destroy or neutralize submarines, and to dash forward in time of battle to spray a sheaf of torpedoes which will compel the enemy to take a disadvantageous position.

They must be nimble as a cat, be brought down before they can come close enough to release their torpedoes.

They must carry massive fire power, both in guns and torpedo tubes. Finally, they must be sea-worthy under all conditions, for they must accompany the fleet or operate independently themselves regardless of the others.

World War Experience
Old-line officers have always emphasized seaworthiness. They need go back only to the World War to point out that efforts of bright young officers to put more and more gadgets on the Ford eagle boats brought a naval scandal. These, in original design, were seaworthy. By the time all the surplus gadgets were installed they began tipping over even in smooth water.

Changes in design in the past half dozen years indicates the present drift. The Farragut class, of 1933 and 1934, carried eight torpedo tubes nearly balanced in the center-line of the ship, so that they could fire 5-inch guns and reputedly could do chuckles Uncle E. "We really were sitting on a powder keg all summer, when you consider our pitching."

"Who, for instance, thought Red Ruffing would come along with the season he did, with the storm trouble he had so early in the year?"

But even if the Yankees have trouble, Barrow can't see any other club strengthened enough to beat them.

Just as he remarked on the way back from the world series, the Yankees are a beautifully balanced club on the field, in the clubhouse and in the home.

The Yankee front office demands it of the athletes . . . gets rid of players who detract from that balance.

That is why Edward G. Barrow says the Yankees can win five straight and maybe more, although it never has been done.

King Cotton Goes Underground

HOUSTON, Texas —(AP)— Cotton growers, contractors, Department of Agriculture officials and department store officials watched with interest recently when a bituminous covering was applied to a large department store parking lot.

The covering consisted of a six-inch shell base tempered with concrete and a one and one-quarter inch bituminous asphalt surface. Between the two, a 30,000 square yard sheet of cotton fabric was spread to "bind" the top material. It is an experiment to determine if the fabric won't improve the cover and create a new use for cotton.

Bear Warning

BERKELEY, Calif. —(AP)—Even persons hardy enough to kill bears and eat their meat must resort to house-hold precautions or risk death, University of California scientists warn. Like some pork, the university medical school has found, bear meat may be a source of deadly trichinosis. Hunters should cook the flesh thoroughly.

Go to the Beaver, Thou Sluggard

PUEBLO, Colo.—(P)—Bill Rutherford, CCC camp foreman, tells about the beaver colony that mistook a fence for an aspen grove.

"Beaver spore aspen bark for food," says Rutherford. "A rancher on Willow Creek built a fence and used green aspen for posts.

"The beaver tried to fell the posts, severing them at the base, but the wires held them upright. The animals tried again, this time severing the posts higher. Still the posts remained upright.

"They are busy yet trying to fell those 'trees' and it appears they have set themselves an all winter task."

Nearly half the accidents in Texas during a five-month survey occurred on Saturday and Sunday. Less than 24 per cent of the traffic moved on those days.

Economy, Not War, Boosts Panama's Merchant Marine

By BRUCE CATTON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The projected transfer to Panamanian registry of those United States Line steamships may have fallen through, but the fact remains that the merchant marine of little Panama is proportionately the fastest growing in the world.

Although Panama is a nation of only 33,000 square miles and some 476,000 inhabitants, her merchant marine today comprises 159 ships and runs to 717,325 tons, according to Lloyd's Register.

It is larger than that of any other Latin-American nation. And its amazing growth is not due to the war in Europe.

Four years ago, according to Lloyd's

Schools Will Help In Seal Campaign

Students to Participate In Fight Against Tuberculosis

Schools will take an active part in the Christmas Seal campaign against tuberculosis which will open on Thanksgiving Day and continue through Christmas. A teaching unit on "The Message of the Double-Barred Cross" is being distributed to the schools of Hempstead county.

"This story on tuberculosis and its prevention and the part played by the double-barred cross, international badge of the drive against tuberculosis, is prepared in interesting form for use in grade and high school," said Hattie Anne Field, secretary of the Hope Tuberculosis Association.

"It is important to interest students in the tuberculosis campaign. They represent the group in which lies our greatest hope for control of the disease. Since they will soon be the governing interest in the community, they need to know the part played by such an organization as the tuberculosis groups. By increasing our efforts in this group, breaking down from tuberculosis will be averted," announced Miss Beryl Henry, superintendent of Hope Schools and First Vice-President of the tuberculosis association.

Eligible Unemployed Workers-Losing Pay

LITTLE ROCK — A large number of eligible unemployed workers in Arkansas are losing all or part of their earned unemployment compensation benefit rights, according to a special survey just completed by Eli W. Collins, director of the unemployment compensation division.

The survey covered a large group of typical benefit claims filed during a one month period. In the cases checked, 34.3 per cent of all claimants filed their benefit claims two weeks or more after leaving their jobs and after being eligible to file benefit claims. Based on the total of new claims filed throughout the entire state, this means that about 1135 unemployed workers delayed commencement of their initial benefit rights two weeks or longer during the month covered by the survey.

"This is an extremely regrettable situation," Collins says, "and it behooves every member of the unemployment compensation division personnel, and employers and citizens to combine their efforts in carrying information about benefit rights to unemployed individuals eligible for benefits."

"Every unemployed eligible individual in Arkansas should know that unemployment compensation benefits are his right based on an insurance policy set up by the state, with premiums paid for by his former employers, and are not in any sense related to charity or relief."

Order for Seizure of German Exports

King George Signs Decree for British—New Losses at Sea

LONDON, Eng. — An order in council for the seizure of German exports was signed Monday by King George as an avowed reprisal for German mine-laying warfare.

The order for complete blockade of Germany will be published in the London Gazette Tuesday and will probably become effective in a few days.

The action came as new shipping losses were reported by the admiralty.

The Holland-America 8-850-ton freighter Sparadunk sank in the Thames estuary. Her crew and one passenger were rescued.

The admiralty disclosed the capture of two German freighters, one of which was later destroyed by a German submarine as she was being taken to a British port by a prize crew. The communicate said the German steamer was "abandoned and driven ashore" and four Germans killed in the encounter.

The British steamer Royston Grange, 5-144 tons, sank in the Atlantic, all her crew being saved.

Big Polish Liner Sunk

LONDON —(P)— Allied merchant and war fleets suffered new blows Sunday in the sinking of the 14,294-ton Polish luxury liner Pilsudski and the British armed merchant cruiser Rawalpindi, with the reported combined losses of 287 lives.

The admiralty announced that all but 17 of the officers and crew of the 26,837-ton Rawalpindi had gone down with the ship. About 300 men were reported aboard, and the loss was estimated at about 280. Seven were missing in the Pilsudski disaster. Cause of the sinking of the Rawalpindi was not given.

The Pilsudski, first transatlantic liner built for the Polish republic and which had accommodations for 760 passengers, was under charter to the British Admiralty. She was in New York harbor when the war broke out.

The world contains 200 distinct speciality ducks. About 50 varieties are found in North America.

RAISING A FAMILY

Grandmother's Experience Can Help in Child Training

About Grandma interfering with mother when she trains Jimmy:

A. She shouldn't.

B. She should.

C. Grandma and mother could have confidential talks.

D. There should be a tug-of-war before Jimmy?

The right answer is "C."

Mother can learn a lot from Grandma, as anyone with small experience can learn from those who have been through the mill. On the other hand, Grandma can learn from mother, because ways with children change according to the generation in which they are born, and conditions become entirely different.

Two women of different generations, intelligent, openminded and cooperative can merge their ideas very well and reach a sympathetic understanding.

There will be many a thing that Grandma does not approve in Jimmy's handling. If she has any comment to make, and she should not make too many, she might look back to her own young motherhood and try to recall how she felt when an older woman disapproved her own methods.

She runs the risk of antagonizing Jimmy's mother, and losing her influence altogether if she cannot control her feelings. She can help a good bit by kindly counsel, very often.

Again, No.

Don't Criticize Mother In Front of Child

Mother might feel, too, that criticism in front of her boy lessens his respect for her. And at that she may be right. Children will often switch affections to those who are easier and kinder than their parents. Hard as it is, sometimes, children should be allowed to keep their faith in their own mothers and fathers.

If Grandma thinks a child is being spoiled, and tries to stop it, with that child's knowledge, then another tragedy takes place. This child may learn to hate her, and she surely doesn't want that.

Old ways and new ways, as I have said, can learn and merge. When Jimmy is absent Grandma and mother could have close talks about certain situations and keep open minds toward each other. Grandma may be entirely

Breeding Orchids in the Mountains

Most Expensive Flower May Be Brought Down in Price

AP Feature Service

DENVER — Orchids for everybody is the goal of Stuart Mace, young college student. And if experiments in domesticating a native American mountain orchid are successful he hopes they will sell "for around two bits wholesale."

Mace, a horticulture student at Grinnell college in Iowa, climbs Colorado mountains in the summer "just for fun." It was on one of these trips he found his mountain orchids at 8,000 to 10,000 feet altitudes. Now he has experimental plots with 8-10,000 plants.

He claims these advantages for the mountain orchids:

"They have better shipping qualities than present orchids and remain fresh longer.

"They are 'perfect in size' for corsages, there is a smaller size for the hair, for wrist corsages and for flower necklaces.

"They are a perfect orchid color.

"The price of the usual orchid is high because most of the original plants come from India and South America, and a huge investment is required to grow them.

"The Colorado orchids are prolific seed producers and we have grown plants from them under natural conditions," Mace says. "We are trying now to find a way to raise them in commercial quantities, preferably at low altitudes.

"We have been working on it three years. Perhaps this winter we will have success."

The problem is to find a medium in which the seeds will sprout. Colorado mountain orchids are parasites, living on aspen trees. Some substitute is being sought.

Teacher-Pupil Cooperation

LA JUNTA, Colo.—(P)—High school home economics students wanted to "go goldfish gulpers one better" so they caught a rattlesnake and ate it.

Three high school teachers, one a woman, joined the class in a "snake steak" meal after the rattler was skinned and cooked. They said the meat "tasted swell."

These factors are largely economic. Steamship men here point out that Panama does not require that the owners or officers and crew of ships registered under her flag be citizens of Panama.

She has practically no "safety" legislation governing her merchant marine, nor has she any maritime labor legislation. Consequently it is much cheaper to operate a vessel under the Panamanian flag than it is to sail under the flag of a country like the United States.

Examination of a recent listing of the Panamanian merchant marine shows only eight out of the 155 ships there registered give Panama as their home port. Fifty-two give American cities as their home ports, 28 list Oslo, and 26 list London. Seven are listed as from Hong Kong.

A large number of vessels under the Panama flag are tankers. Of the Scandinavian-owned vessels flying that flag, many are steam whalers and their consorts. Largest vessel under the Panama flag is the Vestfold of Oslo, a whaler of some 8,000 tons.

Seamen Predict Further Growth

So rapid has been the growth of the Panama merchant fleet that some maritime experts here predict it will before long rank with the world's leaders. Others hold such predictions to be pretty optimistic.

The United States merchant marine is given in Lloyd's as 11,515,258 tons for 1938, while Great Britain's in the same year was given as 20,719,000. This indicates that the Panamanian have a good way to go.

Yet their merchant service today is nearly half that of as good a seafaring nation as Sweden, more than half as large as Denmark's, and a quarter the size of France's.

Whether any more United States ships are transferred to Panamanian registry because of the war may be doubtful, in view of the administration's action on the proposed United States Lines transfers.

As one shipping man here expresses it in the past it has been felt that—since most foreign nations look on Panama as an American protectorate—registration under the Panama flag carries all the advantages of American registration and none of the drawbacks.

Incidentally, the increased registry has been a fair item in the income of the Panama government. It costs a dollar a ton to register a vessel in Panama. On that basis, Panama has collected upwards of $580,000 from ship owners in the last four years.
